

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air a one sided "documentary" days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. Is this the end of Free Press? Democracy suffers.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Who will hold them accountable?

Please encourage news about people and issues from our own local communities instead of propaganda created to increase the profit margin.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
